

Washington sees largest increase in overdose deaths

Washington had the nation's highest uptick in reported drug overdose deaths between February 2022 and February 2023, according to Centers for Disease Control and Prevention data.

